Civil Engineers (Grade III)

The Office of Public Works (OPW) is the lead agency in co-ordinating flood risk management policy and the flood relief capital programme in Ireland and an essential component of the Irish Civil Service.

Every day the Civil Service makes a vital contribution to Irish life, from carrying out the work of Government to delivering front line public services.

The OPW now has vacancies for Civil Engineering staff at Engineer Grade III level to join our team and support the flood risk management programme across the whole of Ireland.

This is an exciting opportunity for Civil Engineers to join an organisation dedicated to supporting staff to realise their full potential with access to professional development opportunities and career progression.

Successful candidates must hold a minimum level 8 qualification on the National Framework of Qualifications (NFQ) in Civil Engineering which is accredited by Engineers Ireland.
