BY-LAW.

Use of Drift Nets for Herrings in Day Time.

By the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland.

WHEREAS, public inquiries were held at Arklow and Waterford on the 25th and 27th days of September, 1900, into an application for permission to use, between sunrise and sunset, Drift Nets for Herrings, off that part of the Coast of Ireland between Mizen Head (Co. Wicklow) and Mine Head (Co. Waterford), including all the Bays and Estuaries of Rivers between these two Heads :

And Whereas, having considered the evidence received thereat, the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland are of opinion that the use of such Drift Nets within the limits set forth below, may be permitted between twelve of the clock, noon, and sunset, during part of the year, without injury to the Fisheries :

Now, the Department, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in them vested under the Agriculture and Technical Instruction (Ireland) Act, 1899, and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, do make and ordain the following By-Law :—

It is hereby permitted to use Drift Nets for the capture of Herrings, between twelve of the clock, noon, and sunset, during the months of September, October, November, and December, in each year, within the limits bounded by the following imaginary lines, that is to say :— on the South an imaginary straight line from Hook Tower, in the County of Wexford, to the Light House at Dunmore East, in the County of Waterford ; and on the North, an imaginary straight line across the River Barrow at the Bridge at New Ross, and an imaginary straight line across the River Suir at the Bridge in the City of Waterford.

In witness whereof the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland have hereunto set their official seal this Twentieth day of October, One Thousand Nine Hundred.
