APPENDIX 10A

Plate 10.1: North-facing view of top of weir structure (F001), fish pass in foreground (1m scale)

Plate 10.2: West-facing view of weir structure (F001)
note: exposed limestone bedrock in foreground (1m scale).

Plate 10.3: North-facing view of section of river walling (F003) on north bank

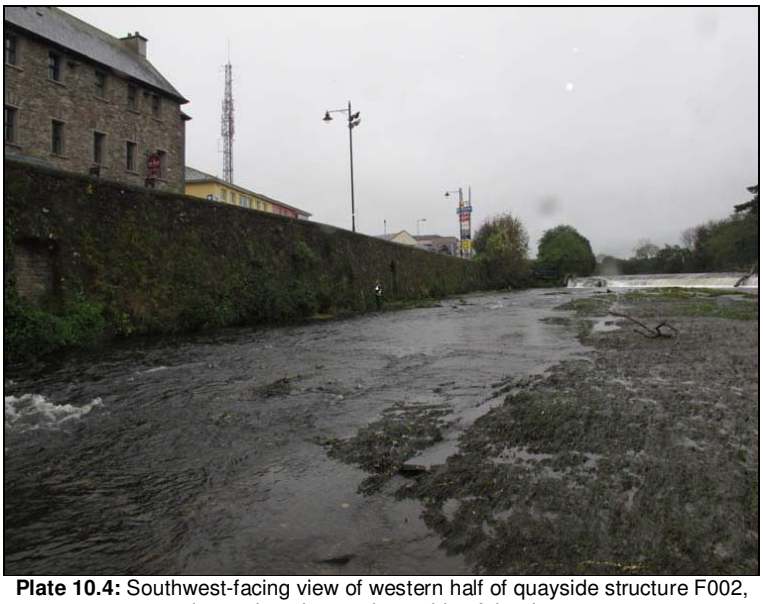

Plate 10.4: Southwest-facing view of western half of quayside structure F002, located on the southern side of the river.

Plate 10.5: Northwest-facing view of downstream side of Bandon Bridge (F004)

Plate 10.6: West-facing view of section pier structure (F004:01) protruding from south wall of Bandon Bridge. Note: series of timber piles located along pier base

Plate 10.7: Detail shot of timber piles along the base of southern arch of Bandon Bridge (14cm scale).

Plate 10.8: Masonry paving protruding from base of pier (F004:03) on north side of southern arch of Bandon Bridge

Plate 10.9: Limestone revetment wall (F006) located along the north bank, 180m downstream of Bandon Bridge

Plate 10.10: Limestone revetment wall (F007) on north bank, 287m downstream from Bandon Bridge

Plate 10.11: East-facing view of west end of bridge abutment (F008) on south bank

Plate 10.12: Revetment wall (F009) on north bank, 639m downstream from Bandon Bridge

Plate 10.13: West-facing view of possible fish weir (F010)

Plate 10.14: South-facing view of section of masonry (F012); running along south bank

Plate 10.15: East-facing detail shot of section of masonry (F013) protruding from the south bank

Plate 10.16: Northwest-facing view of wall (F014) incorporated into modern access bridge

Plate 10.17: Northeast-facing view of river walling on north bank (F015)

Plate 10.18: Northwest-facing view of possibe fording point (F016)

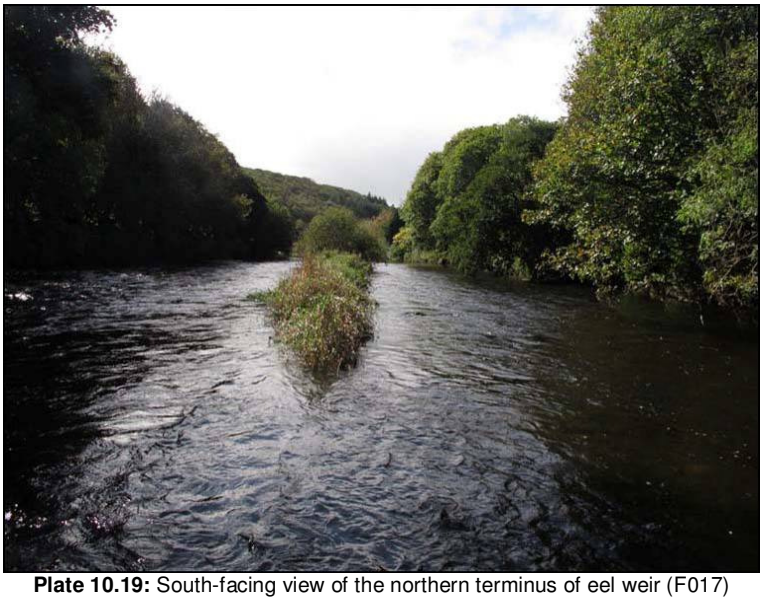

Plate 10.19: South-facing view of the northern terminus of eel weir (F017)

Plate 10.20: West-facing view of west line of town wall (F018) at north bank

Plate 10.21: North-facing view of projected west line of town wall extending north from river

Plate 10.22: Medieval pottery recovered from riverbed under Bandon Bridge

Plate 10.23: South facing view of former Moanarone Distillery (CHS 20)

Plate 10.24: Southwest facing view of Bridewell showing modern quay wall to be upgraded on right side